Quinta da Boa Esperança

— Lisbon, Portugal

Racy and complex from the birthplace of Arinto.

Production

The indigenous Portuguese grape variety Arinto is from Bucelas, around 20 miles from Boa Esperanà§a. The Arinto vines are cultivated in clay-limestone soils. After hand-harvesting into 15kg crates the whole bunches are pressed and most of the must (90%) is fermented in stainless steel at a controlled temperature of 10-12ºC. The remaining 10% is fermented in 2nd use French oak barrels and kept on fine lees, with battonage, for around 8-9 months. Limited production with only 7,500 bottles produced.

Tasting note

Marked minerality and acidity, a wine with high ageing potential. Complex aromas of lime, lemon, green apple but also honey and dried herbs. The palate is very racy with the tremendous energy that Arinto brings.

Food Match

A perfect match for richer fish dishes, think skate wine in brown butter, smoked haddock or mussels in cream sauce.
